BAKO AMBIANDA SPEAK AT SXSWEDU 2016

Educational Panel at SXSWEdu 2016

Austin, 17.03.2016, 02:58 Time

GAA News - Bako Ambianda hosted a panel at the renown´s South by South West EDU Conference 2016 in title Sustainable Educational Development Initiative in Africa which is part of the SEDIA Program, an ducational development initiative of Global Attain Advancement LLC.

Given the importance of human capacity in development, economic growth and social stability, it is no surprise that education policy occupies an increasingly important place on national policy agendas. The widespread recognition that education is a major driver of economic competitiveness in an increasingly knowledge-driven global economy which has made high-quality education more important than ever before in both industrialized and developing countries.

THE PANEL

The panel featured educators from Africa and the U.S, who talked about bold approaches to improving the quality of education in Africa at all levels. The panel session focused on how we can make a positive difference in the life of children´s, families, and countries in Africa through Education.

Some questions to discussed on the panel include were;

How do we expand the vision of what is required from a teacher to ensure that their mastery of basic topics positions them to best educate the children?

What are the potential solutions to upgrade higher education systems related to science and technology across Africa?

The Panel was organized to contributing to achieving the United Nations sustainable development goal number 4 for ensuring inclusively and quality education for all and promote lifelong learning. Obtaining a quality education is the foundation for improving people´s lives and sustainable development.

The panel took place on March 08/2016 at Austin Convention Center, Room 12AB from 03:30 PM.
